

IbM :
Girikarto village in Gunungkidul District of Panggang Utilization of Agricultural Products and Livestock in order to improve the economic welfare

Syukri Fathudin AW , Musaroh , VitaFitria (Yogyakarta state university Indonesia)
email : syukri_widodo@yahoo.com

abstract

The main purpose of science and technology activities for the community (IbM) is the target audience is able to improve the economic well-being , independence and productive based on the utilization of agricultural produce and livestock .

The main benefits of science and technology activities for the community (IbM) is the target audience shape the character of human being strong, independent , prosperous creative economy based on agriculture and livestock product utilization

IbM used the lecture method , sharing , questions and answers . IbM's target audience is residents Girikarto good fathers for training Preserving Forage Forage(HPT) and resident mothers Processing Training Girikarto for good food .

The results obtained from the resident training activities Forage Forage Preservation and Production Training Processed foods are good it can be concluded that : people especially fathers can know better utilization of fodder preservation , also people especially women can know how good the production of processed foods .

Keywords :Girikarto , Forage Animal Feed , Food preparations